Nowdays a problem of lonely old people is widely spread. And we should do something with it.

In our world there are a lot of robberies of elderly people. It is very easy for criminals to enter the house of an old person.

I think, we should help our grandparents and parents. We can install good locks on their doors. In my opinion, an old person should have a dog. A dog is a good way to make life safer. There are a lot of helpful technologies that can prevent crimes. For example a sound monitoring system, that analyses household sounds. So we can understand if something is happening.

We should take care of our grandparents. And we can do a lot for them even if we do not live together with them.
